TUSCULUM'S VETERAN SERVICES OFFICE

Office: (423) 636-7371
Campus Ext. 5371
Cell: (423) 972-3003
P.O. Box 5076
Greeneville, TN 37743

The Veteran Services Office is here to ensure all student veterans and their family members receive the support they need and deserve as they pursue their education goals. It is their focal point for veteran-related issues, regardless of whether the student is attending in Greeneville, Morristown, or Knoxville or whether they are traditional, adult learners, or online. The core goals of this office are to reach potential student veterans, assist enrolling students with campus resources, retaining student veterans by ensuring campus programs address the awareness and needs of today's student veteran, and ensuring reengagement programs support post-graduation employment opportunities. Responsibilities include:

- Community outreach
- Develop partnerships with local military units and veteran organizations
- Assist with campus resources
- Veteran-specific campus programs and initiatives
- Advising and guiding a Tusculum student veterans organization
- Mentoring
- Veteran recognition and awareness

The success of this office is heavily dependent on the active involvement of student veterans, staff, and faculty. Any student veteran needing assistance or would like to give feedback or suggestions on veteran needs, should contact the Veteran Services Office. Faculty and staff are also encouraged to contact the Veteran Services Office with any questions or suggestions on ways to improve our student veterans' experience.

VETERAN'S EMPLOYMENT AND VOLUNTEERING

Pre-Graduation Employment

Most student veterans may already have employment while they are pursuing their degree. However, some may be looking for part-time or full-time employment while attending school. Each person's experience and qualifications are different so it would be difficult to list all the various employment resources. In addition to the sources which follow, you may want to consider a work study through the Veterans Administration. Although the pay is only at the higher of state or federal minimum wage, it does allow for work schedule flexibility and may get your foot in the door if you want to look at the VA as a permanent place of employment post-graduation. For more information on the VA Work Study Program, visit <http://www.benefits.va.gov/gibill/workstudy.asp>.

Internships and Job Shadowing

Opportunities for internships for college credit, pay, and/or experience are possible. The Veteran Services Office will assist student veterans in bridging the desire of a student with the needs of an employer on an individual basis. To learn more, contact the Veterans Services Office. In addition, the Tusculum Career Services Office has resources available at www.tusculum.edu/career/ including internship opportunities. Job shadowing allows students the opportunity to learn more about the day-to-day requirements of a particular field they may be interested in. For more information on job shadowing, contact the Veteran Services Office.

Post-Graduation Employment

Post-graduation employment starts well before you receive your diploma. Networking, preparing your resume, honing communication and interviewing skills are all areas you need to work on in advance. The Career Services Office (423) 636-7447 is a must-stop as they can provide you with resources to improve skills that may land you that new career. It is never too early to start!

As your graduation date gets closer, you want to start getting your resume prepared, polished, and out there. Do not wait until you graduate to start! As a veteran, you may have veteran preferences for jobs (especially federal jobs) and your preference may increase if you have a service-connected disability rating. The federal government is a great source of job openings for veterans because of their hiring preferences for veterans. Most federal jobs are posted on www.usajobs.gov and advertises jobs both in the United States as well as overseas. The internet is filled with job search sites and this resource book will point you to other sources as well...use them all.

Skills Through Volunteering and Involvement

Some employers receive hundreds of resumes for one job opening. They must then find the one person that sticks out. Volunteering and being involved in organizations are excellent ways to put you above the rest. It shows motivation, leadership, a desire to help your community and involvement that employers like to see. You also pick up life skills like communication and teamwork. It is tough to find the time to volunteer and be involved while in college but some of your peers are doing it; don't let them be the one future employers select for your dream job. There are always opportunities to get involved around campus and the community and you don't have to overload yourself; just be there when you have the time.

Some organizations always looking for volunteers and sites to match volunteers with organizations:

The Doak House Museum- <http://www2.tusculum.edu/doakhouse/volunteer-opportunities/>
Volunteer East Tennessee- <https://www.volunteeretn.org/>
Volunteer Match- links volunteers with organizations www.volunteermatch.org
Hospitals, nursing homes, and assisted living facilities

Involvement in student or local organizations give you a big boost on your peers. Whether it is a student organization, little league, girl scouts or others the willingness to be a leader and get involved may be the edge you need with employers.

Not only do you help your community and build strong life skills, you are networking with community businesspersons and leaders.

CAMPUS RESOURCES

Green Zone

Tusculum's Green Zone Program started in April 2017 to address student veteran issues and needs. Volunteers from the staff and faculty receive training on various issues ranging from potential difficulty in transitioning to civilian life, posttraumatic stress and adjusting to the classroom.

Student veterans can rest assured that although these staff and faculty members are not experts in veteran issues, they have a desire to help our veterans succeed in the classroom. They have resource points of contact for campus, local, state and federal veterans programs and organizations and receive notifications on changes or updates to veteran programs and issues.

These volunteers are identified by a Green Zone display on their office doors (see below). If any student feels like they are overwhelmed, stressed, or just need some help locating campus, local, state, or federal resources, they should look for this display. Students can also contact the Veteran Services Office at (423) 636-7371.

The Student Veterans Organization (SVO)

allows student veterans to be active in school activities and school governance. Being an active member of the SVO has many benefits including:

- Allows student veterans opportunities to get together as a support network for each other,
- Opens doors to new friendships with people who know what it's like to be a veteran,
- Provides an avenue to be active and involved in the campus and community,
- Creates a group voice to school leadership ensuring veteran issues are addressed throughout campus, and
- Peer mentoring and assistance to other veterans
- Contact Veteran Services for more information

LOCAL RESOURCES

There are many organizations and offices in the community to assist in many ways. It is impossible to list them all. Some of the more veteran specific information is provided.

VA Healthcare

The Veterans Administration uses Medical Centers, Clinics and Community Based Outpatient Clinics (CBOCs) to serve the veterans in the communities. The VA Medical Center for East Tennessee is the Mountain Home VA Medical Center located in Johnson City. As a medical center, they have a lot more clinics than a CBOC would so there are more points of contact below for them. There are CBOC locations in Knoxville, Morristown, Rogersville, and Sevierville and their main point of contact number are listed below.

Mountain Home VA Medical Center

Dial (423) 926-1171 then enter extension shown.

Eligibility Enrollment	Ext 7200
Mental Health Clinic	Ext 7248
Pharmacy	Ext 7221

For any office or clinic not listed, call (423) 926-1171 and ask the switchboard operator which office or clinic you need.

VA CBOCs and Outpatient Clinics

Once you reach the main number, ask for the office or clinic you are looking for and you will be directed from there.

Knoxville	(865)545-4592
Morristown	(423)586-9100
Rogersville	(423)235-1471

The VA also has Vet Centers in some locations. Vet Centers mostly provide counseling services for those struggling with posttraumatic stress. Below is the contact information for both clinics in our area.

STATE OF TENNESSEE VETERAN BENEFIT RESOURCES

County and State Offices

Tennessee has Veteran Service Officers (VSOs) located at state and county offices. They provide assistance with VA and state benefits. They are a good resource for applying for VA disability, State Veteran Homes and State Veteran Cemeteries. If you are looking for a county not listed, an internet search of "(county, state) Veteran Service Office" will point you to them.

Counties

Greene County VSO - 101 Longview Drive, Greeneville TN 37745 - (423) 798-1707

Veteran's Employment

Your first stop for job search is the Tusculum Career Services office. They have a tremendous amount of information on job assessments, interviewing and resume writing, and job opportunities. The Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development also has Tennessee American Job Centers throughout the state. Part of their function is working with veterans on employment opportunities. Below are the offices located near our campuses; more offices/information can be obtained at <https://www.tn.gov/workforce/topic/find-local-help>

Specialty License Plates

Several specialty license plates are available to veterans. To view the available plates and for more information, go to <https://www.tn.gov/veteran/article/veteran-specialty-plates4>

Veteran Designation on Driver License or Photo ID

Tennessee allows a veteran designation on your driver license or on a state-issued Photo ID. This could satisfy proof of veteran status for various programs and discounts. Contact your local Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) with the original or certified copy of your DD Form 214. Recommend taking a copy as well for the DMV's files.

Discounts

Many local and national businesses offer discounts for goods and services. Always ask about a military discount. If you do not have a military or retired military ID card, most businesses will request to see your DD Form 214 and photo ID. Always carry a copy of your DD Form 214!

FEDERAL RESOURCES

Requesting a Copy of Your Military Transcripts

While in the military, you most likely attended courses in job-related skills training and leadership (among others). These courses may have awarded you college credit. To obtain transcripts go to the website shown below. The JST website is very picky to which internet browser you use so you may need to try a different browser if you cannot access it.
USA, USN, USMC, USCG: <https://jst.doded.mil/smart/dodMandatoryBannerForm/submit.do> or USAF: <http://www.airuniversity.af.mil/Barnes/CCAF/>

Requesting a Copy of Your DD Form 214

Upon separation/retirement from the military, a copy of your DD Form 214 is maintained at the National Archives in St. Louis. To request a certified copy, you can either do it online through eVetRecs or by Standard Form 180 (SF 180). Instructions for both (and access) can be found at <https://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records>

Requesting Replacement Medals

The military services will issue a one-time replacement of medals to military veterans (next-of-kin may also be eligible to request medals of a deceased veteran). These requests can be in writing or online. To learn more and request medals, visit <https://www.archives.gov/veterans/replace-medals.html>

Requesting Military Records

Veterans may request a copy of all of their military records that are archived in St. Louis upon discharge from the military. Requests can, in some cases, take weeks to process but can be requested by visiting <https://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records>

Correction of Military Records

In some cases there is a need to correct something in a veteran's military record. This can range from a typo on the DD Form 214 to a request to change the character of discharge. Each military service is responsible to review and approve/deny requests (the National Archives is only a storage/maintenance function). There are two forms used to request a change to military records. DD Form 293, Application for the Review of Discharge or Dismissal from the Armed Forces of the United States is used if you have been discharged for less than 15 years and want to change the type of discharge (i.e., from General to Honorable). All other requests would be submitted on DD Form 149, Application for Correction of Military Records.

You must fully justify your request as, in almost all cases, you only get one shot. You should visit the below websites for guidance prior to requesting the change and, once completed, send the requests with any supporting evidence to the branch you served in (addresses below).

VA Home Loans

The VA has a home loan that veterans may be eligible for. This program can help veterans get a home loan with little or nothing down and lower interest rates. The VA does not provide the mortgage but guarantees a large portion of it. Most home lenders are aware of the VA Home Loan program and can help you with the application process. For more information, visit <http://www.benefits.va.gov/homeloans/index.asp>

Pamphlet on Federal Benefits for Veterans, Dependents, and Survivors

This pamphlet provides general information on a lot of the programs the VA offers. To view a current copy of this pamphlet, visit https://www.va.gov/opa/publications/benefits_book.asp

Veterans Burial Benefits

Veterans discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and their immediate family may be eligible for VA burial and memorial benefits. These benefits could range from free burial in a national cemetery, burial allowances, military funeral and/or a burial marker. Death of a dependent family member does not have to occur after the death of the veteran to be eligible. Ensure those responsible for making your final arrangements have access to your DD Form 214 and know your wishes. Most funeral homes will work with next of kin to apply for these benefits or the state veteran service officers listed previously in this guide can also assist.

EDUCATION BENEFITS AND SCHOLARSHIPS

The Veterans Administration (VA) has several education programs for veterans, family members, and surviving family members. These include the Post 9/11 GI Bill, Montgomery GI Bill – Active Duty, Montgomery GI Bill – Selected Reserve, Dependents’ Educational Assistance, the Fry Scholarship, and Vocational Rehabilitation & Employment (VR&E). Military branches and the State of Tennessee also have education programs and scholarships military personnel may be eligible for. All education programs can be complex, so anyone needing general information on these programs should contact

Veteran Services Office
(423) 636-7371 or campus ext 5371

Anyone needing specific guidance or information on their application for or approved GI Bill should be directed to

Pat Simons
(423) 636-7330, ext 5257

Whether or not VA education benefits are being used, scholarship and grant opportunities are available. If you receive VA education benefits you can receive scholarships only if they are for other than tuition and textbooks. Several scholarships can be found at <http://www3.tusculum.edu/giving/scholarships-endowments/>. Many organizations also provide scholarships to both veterans and family members of veterans. The next few pages also list some but these can change, some can be added, and others may be deleted, make sure you check each site for current information. Also check the national veteran organizations at the end of this guide. Tusculum also provides a full-tuition USS Greeneville Scholarship for veterans or family members who are/were assigned to the USS Greeneville during their military service.
